Nurse Heroes

INTERVIEW

Never have we needed nurses and healthcare heroes more than we do today. And never have we so appreciated all they do on a daily basis and all they've been through over the past year. Their lives and their families' lives have been turned upside down and inside out. Encompass Group wanted to take a moment and highlight a couple of these nurse heroes who are making a powerful difference every day. We had the honor of asking them a few questions. Meet Lindsey Nelson, RN who has been a nurse for three years.

Question 1: What motivated you to become a nurse?

Answer 1: I have always known that I was meant to be a nurse. I love helping others to feel better and educating them on how to better care for themselves. I wanted to be able to make a difference in someone's life and I get the chance to do that every day.

Question 2: What is the best part of being a nurse?

Answer 2: The best part of being a nurse is helping others. I get to meet all kinds of people in different stages of their lives. I get to help each patient in a different way.

Question 3: What is the most challenging part of being a nurse?

Answer 3: The most challenging part of being a nurse is trying to help those who don't want to help themselves. I can do everything possible for a patient but if they don't have the motivation to do what it takes to get better, they won't get better

Question 4: How do you stay motivated and positive?

Answer 4: I stay motivated and positive by reminding myself that every day is a new day and a new opportunity to help someone.

Question 5: What can we do to be supportive of you and all healthcare workers during this pandemic?

Answer 5: To support healthcare workers during this pandemic everyone can follow the CDC guidelines and local hospital rules. Nurses don't make the rules of the hospital and if the hospital is limiting visitors, don't give the staff a hard time.

Question 6: If there was one wish you could grant, what would it be?

Answer 6: If I could grant one wish, it would be that this pandemic would end and everyone would be able to spend time with their loved ones again

Question 7: Is there anything you'd like to share about your experience being a nurse?

Answer 7: Being a nurse is the best yet most challenging career. I have great days where I know I was able to make a difference in someone's life and then there are days where a family member of my patient yelled and cause a scene and had to be removed. Be patient with us nurses. We are doing everything we can to help you and all of our other patients. We are normally harder on ourselves than anyone else.

Lindsey is early in her nursing career and we are grateful that she chose nursing, as she will clearly have an impact on many lives for years to come.

Thank you Lindsey - you truly are a nurse hero.

Nurse Heroes

Melissa Piosca
RN, BUFFALO, NEW YORK

In the second part of our on-going highlight of nurse heroes, we had the honor of speaking with Melissa Piosca. Melissa has been an RN for 8 years and as it turns out, healthcare as a profession runs in her family. As she put it, "she comes by it naturally".

Meet Melissa Piosca.

Question 1: What motivated you to become a nurse?

Answer 1: I always believed that nurses were intelligent, passionate and hardworking. I have 4 aunts who are nurses, each who inspired me to enter this profession.

Question 2: What is the best part of being a nurse?

Answer 2: The best part of being a nurse is what a privilege it is in gaining people's trust. I see them and care for them in all types of situation, some happy, some sad, some exciting, some tragic. I always give them my best in the care I provide, especially during a pandemic.

Question 3: What is the most challenging part of being a nurse?

Answer 3: The most challenging part of being a nurse has definitely showed up during this pandemic. Having resilience has never been more critical. Everything has changed – from hours, to responsibilities, to how we handle uniforms, to daily routines. The emotional attachment I have with my patients is deep and it's difficult to say good-byes; it weighs heavy on my heart. Sometimes I feel powerless, even though I know we are providing the very best care.

Question 4: How do you stay motivated and positive?

Answer 4: My family is my core source of motivation. My husband Duane and my young daughter Brielle make it all worthwhile. I feel blessed to be in good health and to have my family close.

Question 5: What can we do to be supportive of you and all healthcare workers during this pandemic?

Answer 5: To support healthcare workers during this pandemic, please do not underestimate the power of prayer. Also, promoting prevention and following CDC guidelines.

Question 6: If there was one wish you could grant, what would it be?

Answer 6: My wish would be that we could finally eradicate COVID19 – put an end to the pandemic. So many lives have been affected.

Question 7: Is there anything you'd like to share about your experience being a nurse?

Answer 7: The other challenge of the pandemic is the random feeling of guilt – guilty for time spent at work when I'm not spending more time with my family, and guilty for time at home when I'm not spending time caring for my patients. It's an unending cycle.

Melissa is an RN in Buffalo, New York. She gives her all every day to every one she comes in contact with. Her compassion, caring, and dedication came through loud and clear during our conversation.

Thank you Melissa – you truly are a nurse hero.

How an Apparel Program Contributes to Higher Patient Satisfaction

CUSTOMER-CENTRIC CULTURE

“Patient first” is certainly not a new idea—we all know the importance of understanding the patient/customer experience and providing a better care experience. But how would standardizing healthcare personnel attire support a customer-centric culture?

Put yourself in a patient’s shoes for a moment—especially an elderly patient, or perhaps a parent with a sick child. You’re sick, upset to be in the hospital, and people are coming and going through your room and you don’t know why.

On patient satisfaction surveys patients often comment on caregivers’ lack of professional appearance, and their inability to identify who was in their room. This is obviously upsetting for patients and can affect who they trust to provide their care. A lack of a provider dress code not only contributes to patients’ inability to identify who is in their room, but also why that provider is in their room.

IDENTIFICATION & PROFESSIONALISM

Most hospitals and health systems that adopt a dress code elect to color code attire by job role—for example, all registered nurses may wear dark blue, nurse practitioners may wear light blue, and nursing assistants may wear green. This allows patients to easily differentiate who is who merely by scrub color, without the caregiver having to introduce themselves. Additionally, a dress code can give an increased sense of professionalism in staff appearance and feelings of pride and greater comradery among teammates.

What seems like a simple change on paper—standardizing attire—may be more difficult to undertake than you think. Will the change only affect nursing staff, or all providers of care? How much will it cost to provide the attire for employees? Will you allow color and style variation in your hospitals? Will the attire be branded? What are the regulations required by law? All aspects of this change should be explored before your health system decides whether to move forward or not.

PROVIDER RESPONSE

Perhaps you or your fellow nursing staff are not overly thrilled with the idea of an apparel program. For one, you may have already invested in your own work wardrobe. Many of you likely enjoy the opportunity to select your own colors and patterns or characters every day, especially those that work with pediatric patients.

Questions abound—will nurses have to stick with one color from here on out? Who is paying for this new wardrobe? These types of questions, concerns, and suggestions must be addressed by the decisionmakers. Employee engagement throughout the entire process is vitally important.

There’s no doubt that a carefully considered and researched Professional Attire Policy has great benefits for both patients and caregivers. While such a mammoth culture change may seem intimidating, an apparel program can help create trust between care providers and patients in order to create a (more!) excellent service culture.

When the team at Jockey® International and the team at Encompass® Group, LLC get together to brainstorm on what else they can do to help make a difference during the pandemic, you never know what is going to happen. “With Jockey being founded by a minister 144 years ago, Jockey is a third-generation family owned company. Jockey believes they have been blessed by this country and in her time of need, they will help return the blessing.”¹

Encompass’s mission statement is grounded in taking care of people. Encompass believes every patient, resident, caregiver and family member should feel Safe & Comfortable in today’s healthcare environment. Everything Encompass creates is rooted in that mission and they are proud to design, produce and deliver Jockey® Scrubs. Together, Jockey and Encompass have made great strides to deliver key supplies to those in need including donating 250,000 isolation gowns and 10,000 scrubs.

Knowing that there is still a huge need out there, Jockey and Encompass partnered again, this time focusing on rural hospitals. Rural hospitals dedicate themselves to ensuring their local communities have the high quality healthcare everyone deserves. Quite often, these communities are made up of underserved populations. “Rural Americans are older and sicker with higher percentages of the six leading chronic diseases, making them more vulnerable to COVID-19. At the same time, rural health care providers are struggling to keep their doors open. Nearly half of all rural hospitals operate at a financial loss, and the rural hospital closure crisis has created healthcare deserts throughout rural America. Rural hospitals and health care providers are on the frontlines keeping communities across the country safe. They are more important than ever.”²

Given these facts from the National Rural Health

Association, Jockey and Encompass decided to create a program to say thank you to those on the front lines at rural hospitals. It is their hope that the rural hospital community will find some comfort, some value and some reassurance that they are appreciated for all they do. For example, they partnered with Vizient, a healthcare performance improvement company that represents more than half of the acute care hospitals in the country, including many rural hospitals. More than 90 of Vizient’s member rural hospitals expressed interest in the program over a period of just three days. Additional Vizient hospitals have also requested the donated items, with many already receiving it.

With great partners like Vizient, as well as others like Sonsiel, and e-Sagacity – the team was quickly able to identify rural hospitals in need. Rural hospitals make a difference for families, individuals, and communities and have cared for those who are fragile, ill and in need.

Buy Scrubs Give Scrubs

BY DEANNA LEONARD

Becky Ries from Valley County Health System in Nebraska said, “We would like to extend our thanks for the scrubs that are being shipped to our hospital. During these difficult times especially, generosity such as this helps to lift spirits and support our workers who are on the front lines helping to care for patients each and every day! Thank you for giving back in such a kind, thoughtful and generous way... we are beyond grateful!”

Hospitals and employees like these inspire Jockey and Encompass Group in so many ways. By donating over 20,000 scrubs to rural hospitals across the United States, it is Jockey and Encompass’s small way of saying thank you. Thank you for the dedication during unprecedented times, thank you for the tireless energy, and most of all thank you for choosing to work in rural communities and caring for those who need it most.
